DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Once the product of group I has been found allowable, claims directed to a multilayer tube, which include all the limitations of the allowable product, are subject to being rejoined and fully examined for patentability under 37 CFR 1.104.

2. Claims 7-9 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected group, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on June 14, 2005.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over U.S. 6,090,459 (Jadamus et al).

Jadamus et al disclose a multilayer plastic composition comprising an inner layer of an electrically conductive thermoplastic molding composition containing graphite fibrils. The graphite fibrils have an average diameter of 0.01 micron with an L/D ratio of the order of from 500:1 to 1,000:1, thus reading on the presently claimed carbon nanotubes (column 4, lines 57-64). In Table 1, patentees describe various compositions comprising graphite fibrils in combination with either impact modified polyamide 1 or 2. The impact modified polyamides are, in essence, compositions comprising a polyamide (matrix) impact modified with polyolefinic impact modifiers, the latter reading on the presently claimed polyolefin component.

The disclosure of Jadamus et al meets the requirements of the present claims both in terms of the types of materials added and their contents. The onus is shifted to applicants to show that the product of the present claims is not the same as or obvious from that set forth by the prior art.

The above rejection is based on the premise that the polyamide reads on the polyamide matrix, the polyolefinic impact modifier (described at column 3, lines 8-22) reads on the polyolefin and the graphite fibrils read on the carbon nanotubes.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. Claims 1-6 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. 6,331,265 (Dupire et al) as per reasons of record.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed June 14, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. It is maintained that it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have used a blend of two matrix polymers, i.e., polyamide and polyolefin, for their expected additive effect in the composition of Dupire et al. This is because it is prima facie obvious to combine two materials each of which is taught by the prior art to be useful individually for the same purpose in order to form a composition which is to be used for the very same purpose.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

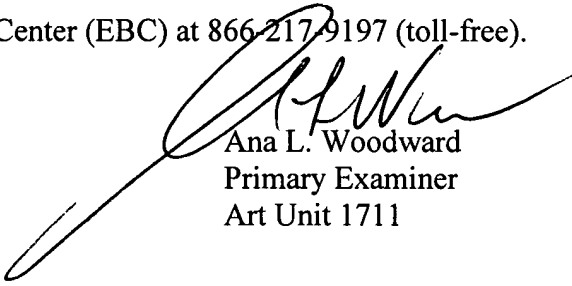

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
